INTRODUCTION

This bibliography was originally compiled as a private help for my own studies in Sallust. When I was encouraged to have it published, it was impossible for me to adapt my materials to the requirements of Bibliography, as for example in the indications of publishers, the size, the number of pages of each volume. Consequently, the present work has no other pretentions than to provide the student of Sallust with a practical guide in the labyrinth of publications concerning this author for the last eighty years.

A glance at the table of contents will reveal the principles of the system on which it is based. In the various sections, a chronological order has been observed. As often as possible, the items are followed by references to reviews and short indications of the contents. For obvious reasons of classification, many items occur in more than one section. Thus each section presents, in a nutshell, the history of one group of problems.

For the period from 1879 to 1964, I have endeavoured to give a complete list, with some exceptions which I indicate in loco. In general, I have excluded most school editions and most of the publications in other languages than English, French, German, the Scandinavian languages, Italian, Spanish, Russian, Latin or Greek. As it is, this bibliography includes almost one thousand publications.

The data concerned, which have been compiled with the help of the bibliographical handbooks and other sources mentioned in the first section, have been verified, corrected and supplemented in various libraries in Holland, Britain and France. Of the latter, I mention those of the British Museum, of the Roman Society, London, the Bodleian Library, Oxford, and the files of L'année philologique, Paris.

Originally it was my plan only to publish a supplement to the Systematical Bibliography of Sallust (1879-1950), Leyden 1952, for the subsequent period. However, as it appeared that this bibliography was out of print, I decided to publish a new, augmented and corrected edition for the whole period 1879-1964.

I thank professor K. Vretska (Graz), Sir Ronald Syme (Cambridge), Mlle Juliette Ernst (Paris) and my assistants G. Bouma and H. Pinkster for their valuable help.

Bussum (J. F. Evertslaan 9), April 1965.

[1]) Published earlier in REC 1936.

12. MAROUZEAU, J.: L'année philologique. Paris 1924, etc.
From 1924 onward; with short indications of contents and reviews.

13. ROUSE, W. H. D., and others: The Year's Work in Classical Studies. London 1906-1950.
Written in the form of a systematic survey.

C. SALLUST IN THE 'JAHRESBERICHTE ÜBER DIE FORTSCHRITTE DER KLASSISCHEN ALTERTUMSWISSENSCHAFT' (BURSIAN-JAHRESBERICHTE, LEIPZIG 1874 etc.).

14. WÖLFFLIN, ED.: Jahresbericht über Nepos und Sallust 1873-1874, BJ 2 (1875), p. 1661-8.
Deals only with some works on Sallust's language.

15. EUSSNER, A.: Bericht über die neueste Literatur zu den römischen Historikern (ausser Tacitus) 1874-1877, BJ 10 (1878), p. 152-207.
Separate reviews, no general considerations.

16. MAURENBRECHER, B.: Bericht über die C. Sallustius Crispus betreffende Literatur 1878-1898, BJ 101 (1900), p. 165-248.
Sections: Sallust's personality, the Coni. Cat., the B. Jug., the mss., editions, textual criticism. Deals thoroughly with the problems involved.

17. MAURENBRECHER, B.: Idem (Fortsetzung); Sallusts Historiae. BJ 113 (1902), p. 228-272.
Continuation of nr. 16. Unfortunately this 'Jahresbericht' has never been finished; the Sections: language, imitators, Epistulae ad Caes., Invect. in Cic. are lacking.

18. KURFESS, A.: Bericht über die Literatur zu Sallust aus den Jahren 1899-1918. BJ 183 (1920), p. 124-194.
Sections: Sallust's personality, his works, ms. tradition, editions, textual criticism, language, imitators, Epp. ad Caes., Inv. in Cic.; Kurfess' 'Jahresberichte' are reliable and objective; they contain many quotations from the works concerned.

19. KURFESS, A.: Bericht über die Literatur zu Sallust aus den Jahren 1919-1922. BJ 192 (1922), p. 46-63.
Same sections as nr. 18.

The text has to be based on the mutili only (contra Dietsch); the integri are interpolated mutili, and so is V. Most editors of the XIXth century followed Jordan and accepted the superiority of P.

68. WIRZ, R.: De fide atque auctoritate codicis Sallustii qui Parisinis in Bibl. Imperiali n. 1576 [A] asservatur commentatio. Aarau 1867.

With Prolegomena on the ms. tradition; refutation of Jordan's thesis. Fails, however, to establish the affiliation of the mss. Compare nrs. 74 and 76.

74. MAURENBRECHER, B.: vide nr. 16: p. 190 sqq. 1900.

Sharp criticism of the prevailing conception of ms. tradition. The affiliation of the mss. is the first thing to be investigated. V is greatly underrated.

[1] For notes on the Invectiva and the Epistulae, mostly connected with the problem of their authenticity, see sections V, A and B. — The notes on the major works are given in the order of the Latin text. If several passages are dealt with in the same study, this is inserted in accordance with the first passage, and the other passages are given in the order of the Latin text at the end of each section, with reference to the numbers of the authors.
Many of the notes are discussed in BJ; these may be looked up with the help of the alphabetical lists (nrs. 920-924; 1004-1009; 1108-1112).
